SYNOPSIS

To Amend the Salary Ordinance for 1978

According to State law, the maximum salaries of City employees must be fixed annually by the first day of August for the following year. If there is a new position created during the year or if duties and responsibilities of a present position are altered, the original salary ordinance must be amended to include it.

This ordinance amends the salary ordinance passed in 1977 by increasing the salary of the Housing Code Enforcement Officer from $9,556 to $11,000. The Housing Code Review Committee comprised of representatives of the council and the administration have recommended that this salary be raised to maintain the quality of the Inspection Program in the City.

FISCAL IMPACT STATEMENT

This salary increase will amount to $610.94 for the remainder of 1978. Adequate funds are available from the Engineering Department budget due to vacancies in the Department during the first half of 1978.
