

ImagineBloomington Workshop 5: Batchelor Middle School (3/19/2012)

Survey General Comments

- I am especially interested in more continuous sidewalks/the more universal presence of sidewalks. Even in core neighborhoods, this can be very spotty. A primary focus could start with safe routes to school (and possibly has) but there are many more opportunities as well. Bike access has similar issues, esp. on roadways.
- Until we put in place a genuine “Transition” plan and implement the Peak Oil Task Force Report, I am concerned about where B-ton is headed, particularly in terms of the economy and the stresses on City of B-ton budget.