CALLING FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

- WHEREAS, the government of Sudan has engaged in a policy of genocide against its own black African population in Darfur through use of its military and through sponsorship of attacks by armed Arab militias known as the Janjaweed; and
- WHEREAS, the Janjaweed and military of the Sudanese government are responsible for bombing villages and hospitals, gang-raping civilians, summarily executing throngs of black Darfurians, using forced starvation as a weapon of war, and impeding access of humanitarian aid to the 50% of Darfurians that are now reliant on assistance; and
- WHEREAS, the Sudanese government is responsible for the death of 400,000 Darfurians and displacement of 2.5 million more; and
- WHEREAS, in September 2004, U.S. Secretary of State, Colin Powell, declared before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, that the Sudanese government and the Sudanese government-sponsored Janjaweed have committed genocide; and
- WHEREAS, a unanimous United States House of Representatives, a unanimous United States Senate and the President of the United States have declared that the Sudanese regime of dictator Omar al-Bashir is committing genocide; and
- WHEREAS, international companies, by conducting business operations in Sudan, bring direct foreign investment dollars to Khartoum and provide both moral and political cover to the Sudanese regime; and
- WHEREAS, Khartoum has funneled the vast majority of direct foreign investment into military expenditures used to perpetuate the genocide while neglecting needed development projects in the Darfur region; and
- WHEREAS, the government of Sudan has a history of remedying egregious behavior in response to economic pressure; and
- WHEREAS, the policy and practice of genocide is abhorrent to the moral and political values of the City of Bloomington, its residents, the people of the United States, and, indeed, democratic and free societies everywhere;
