SYNOPSIS

The City's Telecommunications Council is bringing this ordinance forward. It amends their enabling legislation in order to broaden their mission to include the review of local telecommunications services as well as cable television services, and to change their name to the Bloomington Telecommunications Council.

Note: While it was being introduced on September 27th the Council approved a request from the Council Administrator/Attorney to revise the ordinance by removing a "0" from the reference to BMC 12.12.060.
