IV. Procedure for Establishing Annual Public Art Projects Plan

A. Public Arts Planning Committee - Establishment and Schedule

1. The Commission shall convene the Public Art Planning Committee (PAPC). This committee shall be composed of three members of the Commission, plus a member appointed by the Mayor, a representative of the Council, and representatives from Parks and Recreation, Public Works and the Utilities Departments.
2. The PAPC shall prepare an Annual Public Art Projects Plan in accordance with procedures set forth in these guidelines.
3. The Public Arts Projects Plan shall be included in the city budget.

B. Review of the Percentage for the Arts Program

1. Ongoing projects

- a. The PAPC shall determine whether the projects carried over from previous years are on schedule and within budget.
- b. The PAPC shall review and if necessary propose modified budgets to assure that ongoing projects are adequately funded.

2. Completed Projects

- a. An inventory of art already in the public art collection shall be prepared by the Commission.
- b. The PAPC shall review the inventory and determine if maintenance or other expenses are necessary for the preservation of the collection, and shall identify a source of funds to meet these needs.

C. Identifying city allocations of funds for public art

1. The PAPC shall use the City's annual Capital Improvement Plan in their discussions with department heads to identify projects subject to the Percent for Arts ordinance. These discussions shall take place in order that the Public Art Projects Plan may be developed in time for the planning of the city budget.

2. Capital projects eligible for public art include the following:

- a. Mandated projects - are those capital projects where at least one percent of the cost of construction shall be used for public art at that or another site. According to the ordinance, only capital projects involving the construction or renovation of municipal buildings fall into this category. Where the project is owned by multiple parties, only one percent of the City's contribution shall be set aside for public art.
- b. Discretionary projects - are other projects that may have money set aside for public art. According to the ordinance these include capital projects which involve the construction of parks facilities or the landscaping portion of major projects, and which have been incorporated into the Annual Public Art Project Plan. The PAPC shall meet with the department heads to discuss the possibility of public art for such projects and whether sufficient funds for public art are available.
- c. Unforeseen projects - are other opportunities for a public art project which may arise, but are not specifically covered in the ordinance. The P APC and the department heads shall be free to explore these opportunities and agree to include them in the Annual Public Art Projects Plan.

D. Identifying new public art projects

1. General Considerations

a. Because of the time and energy required to complete an art project, in order for a project to be eligible for incorporation in the Annual Public Art Projects Plan, the P APC must find that the benefits of the project clearly outweigh the costs of administering the project.

b. Because support of a given project is essential to its success, it is recommended that those affected by a project be fully and actively informed about the project.

c. For the purpose of better coordinating aesthetic initiatives, it is recommended that the P APC consult with community organizations active in beautification, restoration and public art efforts when developing the Public Art Projects Plan.

2. Selection of site for a public art project

a. The site must be highly accessible and located in an area where residents and visitors live and congregate. Examples of these sites are the city's entryways, downtown, neighborhoods, and the parks, all of which are separate areas that deserve special attention.

b. The site must hold artistic promise.

c. Selection of site should best serve the overall purposes of the Public Art Projects Plan. The P APC shall decide whether the relative merits of this site are greater than other sites under consideration in the near or long term.

3. For mandated projects not selected for public art projects, Percent for Art monies shall be pooled in the Municipal Arts Fund for use in future projects. In planning use of pooled funds, consideration will be given to the departments from which the funds were received.

4. Selection of type of art for site

a. The type of art shall enhance the aesthetic quality of the site.

b. The type of art should be long lasting and able to withstand environmental conditions at the site. The department or departments that will incur the costs of maintenance shall be identified and consulted to determine labor and other maintenance related costs. Based upon these consultations, reasonable estimates of the maintenance and upkeep requirements for proposed art project shall be prepared and considered when selecting art.

c. The type of art should best serve the purposes of the overall public art projects plan, including plans for future art projects and types of art work already in the public art collection.

d. In selecting the type of art, the P APC shall consult with any design professionals already associated with the capital project. Design professionals should ensure that plans for art are incorporated early on into plans for construction of the capital project.

e. If the members of the P APC have questions or concerns regarding the type of art for a given site, they may choose to consult with experts who may be paid for their services.

E. Refining the Public Art Projects Plan

1. Ongoing and completed projects - the PAPC shall decide whether or not to commit funds to these projects, based on funds available in the MAF and/or Percent for Art funds available in the next fiscal year.

2. New Projects - the PAPC shall decide which capital projects are best for public art, based upon the above criteria, and rank them in order of preference.

3. The overall plan shall be prepared on an annual basis, but have a plan horizon of at least 5 years, and shall include the following:

a. An inventory of the existing Public Art collection (which may be inserted as an appendix).

b. A list of any actions necessary for the preservation of the collection, and the source of funds to be used for this purpose.

c. A list of ongoing projects including schedule for completion and a budget.

d. A proposal for new art projects. Projects to be undertaken in the next Fiscal Year shall include budgets and recommended design approach, created in time for the planning of the city budget.

e. A five-year plan outlining potential projects.

f. A budget summary including the expenditures and sources of revenue for all the above art projects. Sources of funds may include but are not limited to monies from the Municipal Arts Fund, current FY allocations for Percent for the Arts, additional city contributions, private donations and grants. This budget will conform to the standard city budget format or another form acceptable to the Office of Controller.

F. Approving the plan

1. The PAPC and city officials shall establish a time line for review and approval of the Public Art Projects Plan as early in the fiscal year as possible. Once formulated, the Plan shall be submitted:

a. To the Commission for their approval; and

b. To the appropriate board, i.e. the Board of Public Works, the Board of Parks Annual Plan Committee, the Public Transit Corp., and the Utility Services Board in the form of a resolution for their recommendations; and

c. To Common Council and Mayor for their approval.

2. The PAPC may periodically meet with the department heads and review the Public Art Projects Plan for possible revision or amendment. Any revisions or amendments recommended by the PAPC shall be forwarded to the Commission, the appropriate board and, if indicated, the Mayor and Council for review and approval.

V. Appropriation and Allocation of Funds

A. Municipal Arts Fund. The Municipal Arts Fund (MAF) was created by the Percent for the Arts ordinance. Except as specified in these Guidelines, all funds for Percent for the Arts program shall be deposited into the Fund.

B. City Contribution for Percent for the Arts Projects.

1. Mandated projects - are those capital projects where at least one percent of the cost of construction shall be used for public art at that or another site. According to the ordinance, only capital projects involving the construction or renovation of municipal buildings fall into this category. Where the project is owned by multiple parties, only one percent of the City's contribution shall be set aside for public art.

2. Discretionary projects - According to the ordinance, these include capital projects which involve the construction of parks facilities or the landscaping portion of major projects, and which have been incorporated into the Annual Public Art Project Plan. The P APC shall meet with the department heads to discuss the possibility of including public art with such projects and funding the art through the Annual Art Projects Plan.

3. Unforeseen projects - are other opportunities for a public art project which may arise, but are not specifically covered in the ordinance. The P APC and the department heads shall be free to explore these opportunities and agree to fund them through the Annual Public Art Projects Plan.

1. Grant monies and private donations of funds for Percent for the Art projects received by the City shall be deposited in the Municipal Arts Fund.

2. Proposed gifts of funds for the acquisition of works of art if restricted or dedicated in any way shall be reviewed by the appropriate board, commission or council to ensure that such restrictions or dedications are consistent with the goals of the Percent for the Art Program, the Bloomington Community Arts Commission and the City of Bloomington.

3. Where the funds for capital projects are provided by third parties - as with grants from the state or federal governments and with long term financing through financial institutions - the City shall include Percent for the Art projects as an approved use for those funds unless such use is prohibited by the third party or by operation of law.

D. Funds that are necessarily deposited with other monies.

E. Pooling. Percent for Art funds not designated for public art projects shall be pooled in the Municipal Arts Fund for use in future public art projects. In planning use of pooled funds, consideration will be given to the departments from which the funds were received.

F. Use of Funds.

Expenditures from the Municipal Arts Fund may be used for design services of artists; the selection, acquisition, commissioning, installation, display and maintenance of art works; community education programs, publicity and dedications; and other costs related to the administration of the program.

2. The primary purpose of the MAF is to produce enduring works of public art. The funds for administering the program should be kept to a minimum.

3. Wherever possible the maintenance required for percent for the arts projects shall be incorporated into departmental budgets.

G. Authorizing Expenditures. An annual budget shall be prepared which is consistent with the Annual Projects Plan. This budget shall be submitted to the Common Council in concert with the annual budget approval process. Expenditures shall be authorized by the Board of Public Works.

H. Review and Monitoring Funds.
