SYNOPSIS

The Council voted on March 8, 1979 to remove the stop signs on Henderson at Maxwell on the recommendation of the Traffic Commission, Police Department and City Engineer. Several of the residents of the area have since submitted a petition to the Council requesting that the signs be put back because of the problems of children crossing the street and of drivers turning off of Maxwell Lane onto Henderson. This ordinance, sponsored by Councilmember Richardson, would again make Henderson and Maxwell a three-way stop intersection.
