SYNOPSIS

This ordinance amends Chapter 8.20 of the Bloomington Municipal Code entitled "The List of Designated Historic Districts" in order to designate "1115 North College" as a historic district and rate it as a "notable" structure. The Bloomington Historic Preservation Commission sought these actions at the request of the Vencel Properties, Inc. and, after a public hearing on October 13th, 2005, recommended them to the Common Council based upon certain architectural criteria set forth in Title 8 (Historic Preservation and Protection). This property is one of the few remaining examples of early residential developments in this once affluent corridor and is a good example of the transition between Queen Anne and Free Classic style. It is also one of the few remaining masonry Queen Anne buildings left in the city. Upon designation, the property will be included in the Historic Survey and eligible for certain incentives, including the Bloomington Urban Enterprise Association façade grant for commercial properties. It will also be regulated by the requirements that apply to all historic and architecturally worthy districts so designated by the Common Council. These regulations preserve and protect the property from demolition and include the review of exterior modifications.
