APPROVAL OF MINUTES

Hogan wished everyone a Happy New Year. Service reminded the public that they can recycle their Christmas Trees by putting them out at the curb for regular trash pick-up. She also announced that both the Council and the Mayor were accepting applications for the various city boards and commissions. Kiesling noted the recent death of Bill Patton, a city sanitation worker last week. She congratulated the Sanitation Department for a job well done. They have put in 12-14 hr days for the last week as we began our recycling program. She also announced that Helaine Press here in Bloomington is closing their doors. Olcott said that while the last meeting of last year ended on something of a blue note, we are all praying for peace and concerned about the possibility of war in the middle east. Foley seconded Olcott's comments and commended everyone involved in the recycling effort. House and Regester wished everyone a Happy New Year. Fernandez thanked everyone for their support, welcomed Dan Sherman, new Council Attorney on board, thanked the City for the Christmas present in the form of a recycling bin and said he looked forward to a productive and cooperative new year as we work together.

MESSAGES FROM COUNCILMEMBERS

The Mayor thanked Kiesling for her many hours of "volunteer" time and her determination to make the city a better place to live and work. She also thanked Ken Friedlander for really putting his heart into the recycling program and making the whole process work so well. "Our citizens are responding", the Mayor said. She also reminded the public that there is a Channel 3 program on each week right before the council meeting
