MESSAGES FROM COUNCILMEMBERS

Service read an excerpt from a Common Council meeting held in July, 1871. The petition reads as follows:

The undersigned property holders and other citizens of the town of Bloomington respectfully petition your honorable body to pass an ordinance prohibiting the running at large of swine in the Streets of said town. We deem it scarcely necessary to state our reasons - they will suggest themselves to you. They root up the ground before our doors: they rub their filthy sides upon our neatly painted fences: they leave their filthy ordure upon our sidewalks: they may be seen at times rolling in their own filth even upon the side walks of our public square. For these and similar reasons we humbly and earnestly solicit your honorable body to shield us from this nuisance and as in duty bound your petitioners will ever pray

Sixty-two persons signed this petition. The 1871 Council also received a remonstrance signed by 142 persons against the proposed ordinance. After consideration and much soul searching the council postponed action on the ordinance.

Mr. Harrell, attorney for IPCO explained the manufacturing process that would be used. IPCO purchases rolls of dry paper that is converted into diapers by a process that uses only water. No toxic chemicals are used and the dry waste residue is then baled and sold.

Murphy said that members of the Environmental Commission were concerned about hazardous waste output.

Service asked if the Environmental Commission was regularly informed when such an issue was before the council. Murphy said yes.

Olcott complimented Skip Harrell and Scott Reinkenking for their efforts in bringing this company to Bloomington. From the beginning this company was "sold" on Bloomington and he continued by saying that this is the type of light industry that Bloomington is very glad to have.
