COMMON COUNCIL
REGULAR SESSION
FEBRUARY 20, 1980

Councilmembers present: Morrison, Porter, Murphy, Dilcher, Olcott, Service, Hogan, Allison, Towell.
Councilmembers absent: None.

ROLL CALL

Allison read the agenda summation, noting that there will be a vote to amend the agenda to add Ordinance 80-24, re: City Engineer's salary, for first reading.

AGENDA SUMMATION

Olcott said he is concerned about the Ellettsville Town Board's recent decision to close the fire station on the west side near Highland Village and the westside industries. He said the station serves a very important part of the county and added that area residents and businesses are worried about lack of fire department services on the westside. He said he hopes they will reverse their decision.

MESSAGES FROM COUNCILMEMBERS

Service spoke about the "Tree Ordinance" she is sponsoring. She said as Bloomington grows larger, it becomes more difficult to preserve old trees. She stressed that the ordinance is still in the draft stage and has not been finalized. She urged people to attend the first meeting of the Tree Ordinance Study Committee to air their views on the ordinance.

Allison announced that the Parks and Recreation Board will meet on February 28 to decide, among other things, if Third Street Park will be the site of the Farmer's Market this spring. She noted that Geri Wells of the Human Resources Department had attended and spoken at a conference sponsored by Purdue, the University of Illinois, and the Indiana Department of Commerce, and she found that Bloomington's market is competitive, receives greater than normal cooperation from the municipality, and has a better atmosphere. She then concluded that the Council has quite a few appointments to make to several Commissions, and she thanked Bob Bareikis and Ed Bair of the Environmental Commission for their years of excellent service.

There was no Message from the Mayor.

MESSAGE FROM MAYOR

Tom Cameron addressed the Council as a representative of the Town Campus Peace Coalition. He announced that there will be a "March for Peace" on March 2 and a peace vigil. He contended that war is not the best solution to the serious foreign policy situations around the world, and he asked the Council to support the Mayor's Declaration of Peace Day on March 2.

PETITIONS AND COMMUNICATIONS

Towell moved and Murphy seconded a motion to support Peace Day.

Murphy said that he is opposed to the draft and that he cannot support President Carter on this issue. He urged people to write their Congressmen about this issue.

Towell, Service, Hogan and Dilcher said that a vote for the resolution doesn't necessarily mean that they are against registration or the draft. This would merely support Peace Day.

Morrison said that young people don't know about war and that if it hadn't been for people like himself in World War II then young people probably wouldn't be here to talk about it.

The Council then voted to approve the declaration of Peace Day on March 2 by a vote of Ayes: 8, Abstentions: 1 (Olcott).

Allison read the list of recommendations from the Council's interview committee for appointments to various boards. For the Human Rights Commission, Ron Foley, Ana Ramares and Ed Howell for two year terms. For the Human Resources Commission, Robert Firenze until February, 1982. For the Commission on the Status of Women, Elsie Fields until September, 1981, Jeffrey Hill until February, 1982, and Pamela Houston until February, 1982. For the Environmental Allison added that in the old ordinance provisions which the Traffic Commission operated under, the Mayor appointed the chairperson. This provision was intentionally left out of the new ordinance so that the membership of the Commission could elect their own chairperson. She then suggested that at the next meeting of the Commission, a vote should be taken to elect a temporary chairperson until the Commission adopts bylaws to set up the appropriate procedure for electing officers. Also, contrary to earlier announcements Mr. Brady will serve on the Utilities Service Board until 1982, and she apologized to those who applied. She added that the Council will have another opening in December.

Also under Federal Revenue Sharing Human Resources Department, reduce #26 Contractual Services from $7,095 to $3,650.47 since funds left over from last year can be used for the Youth Shelter with this year's funds probably going to fix up the Police Station.
