Catherine Vest. Originally from New Orleans, Catherine moved to Indiana in 2005 after Hurricane Katrina hit her hometown. Once in Indiana, she earned her Bachelors' degree in Criminal Justice from IUPUI. Catherine has worked with numerous community service groups and nonprofits on election-related initiatives before becoming the Communication & Outreach Specialist with Indiana Disability Rights. She is able to continue her passion in working on election initiatives for people with disabilities with the goals of increasing engagement in the electoral process and to improving Hoosiers quality of life. In her spare time, Catherine is an avid endurance sports enthusiast; having completed several running races and triathlons, including participating in Ironman Triathlon in 2016.
