Just Transition for Bloomington Event Survey

	1	2	3	4	5	6	TOTAL	SCORE
Well-being for all: people around the world have a fundamental human right to clean, healthy, and adequate air, water, land, food, education and shelter.	58.82% 10	17.65% 3	11.76% 2	0.00% 0	11.76% 2	0.00% 0	17	5.12
Meaningful work: a just transition centers on the development of human potential, creating opportunities for people to learn, grow, and develop their capacities and interests. We are all born leaders, and a regenerative economy supports and nurtures that leadership.	5.88% 1	5.88% 1	5.88% 1	23.53% 4	23.53% 4	35.29% 6	17	2.41
Self-determination: all peoples have the right to participate in decisions that impact their lives. This requires democratic governance in our community, including our workplaces. Communities must have the power to shape their economies, as producers, consumers, and in our relationships with each other.	0.00% 0	17.65% 3	23.53% 4	17.65% 3	29.41% 5	11.76% 2	17	3.06
Equitable distribution of resources and power: We must work to build new systems that are good for all people, and not just a few. Just transitions must actively work against and transform current and historic social inequities based on race, class, gender, immigrant status, and other forms of oppression.	5.88% 1	17.65% 3	41.18% 7	17.65% 3	5.88% 1	11.76% 2	17	3.65
Regenerative systems: just transitions must advance ecological resilience, reduce resource consumption, restore biodiversity and traditional ways of life, and undermine extractive economies, including capitalism, that erode the ecological basis of our collective well-being.	17.65% 3	35.29% 6	0.00% 0	23.53% 4	17.65% 3	5.88% 1	17	3.94
Inclusion of all cultures: capitalism has forced many communities to sacrifice culture and tradition for economic survival. It has also defaced and destroyed land held as sacred. Just transitions must create inclusionary spaces for all traditions and cultures, recognizing them as integral to a healthy and vibrant economy.	11.76% 2	5.88% 1	17.65% 3	17.65% 3	11.76% 2	35.29% 6	17	2.82
