Dear Mr. Larson:

The Federal Highway Administration (FHWA) has reviewed the functional classification revision proposed for the City of Bloomington and Monroe County area, in Indiana. This was included in your letter dated September 29, 2016.

The Division is aware of the significant efforts the Indiana Department of Transportation (INDOT) has made with the Bloomington/Monroe County Metropolitan Planning Organization (BMCMPPO) to update the functional classification in their planning area. As the recognized metropolitan planning organization for the area, BMCMPPO requested additional technical assistance from INDOT to help them finalize their decisions. The resolution and maps from the MPO represent your successful efforts. INDOT is applauded for taking the appropriate time to come to consensus among the state and local partners in transportation. These efforts provide FHWA with the assurance that the requested change in functional classification has been coordinated among all of the appropriate state and local stakeholders.

Based upon our review and in accordance with the FHWA Highway Functional Classification Manual, we hereby approve the requested revision. This approval is not intended and should not be construed as an approval of specific projects on the routes involved.

Please contact Karen Stippich of this office at (317) 226-7122 if you have questions or need further assistance. Thank you.

Sincerely,

For Mayela Sosa
Division Administrator
