

BLOOMINGTON HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

HUMAN RIGHTS AWARD

Nomination Information

The Bloomington Human Rights Commission is seeking nominations for its annual human rights award. Nominees should be individuals or groups who have made specific, significant contributions to improving civil rights, human relations or civility in our community. We welcome nominations demonstrating success in the following areas, among others:

HOUSING: People or organizations who have ensured compliance with fair housing laws; who have worked to increase the availability of accessible housing; who have worked to make affordable housing more available.

EMPLOYMENT: People or organizations who employ a diverse workforce; who stress fair employment practices; who have implemented successful training programs; who have established and implemented effective affirmative action plans.

EDUCATION: People or organizations who have worked to ensure that students at all levels understand, appreciate and celebrate diversity; who have successfully implemented anti-bullying and mediation programs.

ACCESSIBILITY: People or organizations who have been involved in developing accommodations for people with disabilities; who actively strive to hire people with disabilities; who have been instrumental in fighting for the rights of people with disabilities.

LEADERSHIP AND ADVOCACY: People or organizations who have done exemplary work and advocacy in increasing civility and tolerance in our community.
